Colorado Springs Youth Symphony Announces Young Solo Artist Competition Winners
Musicians challenge showcases young talent.

Colorado Springs, CO, March 1, 2016—The Colorado Springs Youth Symphony Association recently announced the winners of their annual Young Solo Artist Competition. The winners are: 1st Place: Nicolo Betoni, marimba; 2nd Place: Rebecca Park, flute; 3rd Place: Jory Lane, violin; and, 4th Place: Hannah Tassler, flute. The event, sponsored by the Colorado Springs Symphonic Guild, was held at Colorado College. Both organizations are supporters of the CSYSA's mission to foster the musical talent of youth in the Pikes Peak region.

“This competition gives participants the opportunity to demonstrate their talent and professionalism,” said Keven Stewart, Executive Director of the CSYSA. “We were more than pleased with the level of musicianship these young artists displayed as well as their incredible skill, dedication and commitment.”

The winners performed for the Symphonic Guild on February 17 at Graner Music. The first place finisher will perform his piece with the Youth Symphony in a public concert on May 1 at the Pikes Peak Center. For more information on performances, visit the CSYSA website: www.csysa.com.

About the CSYSA

The mission of the Association is to provide for the artistic and educational development of young people within the Pikes Peak region by offering high quality and diverse musical experiences which enrich the cultural environment of the community and to provide high quality symphonic music to the general public at a reasonable cost. www.csysa.com
